Three More Lives Lost In Colorado Accidents

Greek Cypriots Threaten New Military Attack

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Greek Cypriot forces moved in heavy artillery for the first time today below the strategic Kyrenia Mountains in northern Cyprus and threatened to advance on the Turkish village of Temblos.

The U.N. Command rushed two companies of Canadian troops to try to hold back the opposing forces.

Tension increased after a new Greek Cypriot police chief took over the Kyrenia district and began tightening up on movements of Turkish Cypriots who control the Kyrenia Pass overlooking Temblos. The pass is on the main highway from Nicosia to the north coast.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Colorado highway accidents have taken three more lives. The year's toll stands at 267, compared to 262 at this stage of 1963.

The latest to die were identified as Paul Grumbin, 38, of Commerce City, Miss. Carmen Rangel, 17, of Denver and Mrs. Charlene J. Smith, 24, of Platteville.

Grumbin was fatally injured late Thursday night near the intersection of U.S. 6 and U.S. 85 in Adams County. The State Patrol said a car he was driving skidded into the rear of a truck Grumbin was thrown through the windshield. The truck driver, Glen R. Jaskowiak, 45, of Cheyenne, Wyo., was not injured, and two passengers in Grumbin's car received minor injuries.

Miss Rangel died of injuries received July 10 in a collision in Denver. The accident also took the life of Melvin Norman Kline, 40, of Denver.

Mrs. Smith died in a Longmont hospital several hours after her car crashed into the engine of a Colorado and Southern train at a grade crossing near Longmont.

She was employed at the Rocky Flats plant operated for the Atomic Energy Commission by Dow Chemical Co.

The State Patrol said she jammed on her brakes and skidded 85 feet before crashing into the locomotive.

Her car was rolled end over end for 52 feet before landing on its wheels in an irrigation ditch.

Mrs. Smith suffered compound fractures of both legs and internal injuries.

Turks Believe Showdown on Cyprus Near

By HAL MCCLURE
ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Turkish officials think a showdown over Cyprus is fast approaching and only the United States can prevent the situation in the Eastern Mediterranean from deteriorating into war.

The Turks have become increasingly pessimistic over the prospects for the United Nations to improve the situation. Turkish officials indicate that if matters worsen, their government will take up where it left off June 3, when it was on the verge of sending more troops to Cyprus.

Only swift action by President Johnson stopped the Turks that time. Deputy Premier Kemal Satir told The Associated Press that "if the situation develops, it is my personal opinion we will not listen to the United States next time."

The Turks are reported to be more than doubling their original one-division force that has been alerted for a possible landing on Cyprus to bolster the Turkish Cypriot minority against the Greek Cypriot majority.

"We still maintain the right of intervention derived from international agreements," Foreign Minister Cemal Erkin said in an interview.

The 1960 agreements under which Cyprus became independent gave Britain, Greece and Turkey the right to intervene independently in Cyprus to uphold the constitution the Cypriots accepted with independence. The constitution gave the Turkish Cypriot minority a veto over major legislation, and efforts of the Greek Cypriot majority to end the veto resulted in the communal fighting that has wracked the island since Christmas.

Each threat of armed Turkish intervention has brought a counter threat from Greece, although both nations are members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The United States and Britain fear that a war between the two would wreck NATO.

Turkish officials say the United States should make a realistic appraisal of the situation.

Miller Says He Wants 'Reason' Reestablished

By BARRY SCHWEID
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—William E. Miller, a New York congressman who planned to quit politics this year, says he is running for vice president to help "re-establish reason in government."

"To be asked to join with millions of fellow citizens in a nationwide crusade is no less than a thrilling experience," the peppery campaigner said Thursday night as he accepted second place on the Republican ticket although "it was not my personal choice."

This comment of Eisenhower, which came on television Thursday, had a certain ambiguity. It was not clear when he talked of his choice whether he was enthusiasm to this greatest challenge of my lifetime."

There was a lack of partisanship in the acceptance speech of the 50-year-old lawyer from Olcott, N.Y., who has built his reputation on sharpshooting at Democrats. Rather, there were expressions of humility and love, tributes to Barry Goldwater and Dwight D. Eisenhower and what appeared to be a beckoning to supporters of civil rights legislation.

Unlike Sen. Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee, Miller supported the civil rights act. And, in his acceptance speech, he said:

"I love the people of the United States—200 million strong, devoted to God, consecrated to liberty, and all crusaders for justice, all crusaders for equality."

ty of opportunity for every person on the face of this earth."

Of Goldwater, Miller said: "I want the record unmistakably clear, I vastly respect and admire the courage, the integrity, the selfless commitment to principle of one of the most dynamic and forceful leaders in all our nation's history."

And of Eisenhower, the last Republican to reside in the White House, Miller said, "his inspiration and his example guide us still."

A Roman Catholic and a graduate of Notre Dame University, Miller provides political balance to Goldwater's Episcopalian religion and Arizona background. The Miller nomination was offered by Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado, duly seconded and unanimously approved.

Commie Attack On Stronghold in Laos Repulsed

By ANTOINE YARED
VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Laotian Air Force's U.S.-supplied fighter-bombers and an artillery barrage beat off a Communist assault on the neutralist stronghold of Muong Soui, the Defense Ministry announced today.

The Communist shot down one of the propeller-driven T28 planes, a spokesman said. It was the second T28 knocked down by Communist groundfire in the past three days.

The Communist Pathet Lao bombarded the neutralists Thursday with artillery and then four battalions of Red infantry crossed the Man Ngum River in what looked to be the beginning of an all-out drive to capture Muong Soui.

But a Defense Ministry spokesman said there was no ground contact between the neutralist defenders and the attackers. Instead a quick artillery counter-bombardment and air action repulsed the attack, he said.

Barry Moves to Cement Control of Republicans

By JACK BELL
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Launching his presidential campaign with the declaration that "extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater moved today to cement his control of the Republican party."

Goldwater told cheering, stamping, horn-blowing convention delegates as he accepted the GOP nomination in the Cow Palace Thursday night that "it is the cause of Republicanism to ensure that power remains in the hands of the people."

"The Good Lord raised up this mighty republic to be a home of the brave and to flourish as the land of the free—to stagnate in the swamp of collectivism—not to cringe before the bullying of communism," he declared.

Cheered throughout his speech, he got his biggest hand from delegates who had been warned about the threat of extremist elements to their party when he said: "Extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice. Moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue."

Clad in a dark business suit and wearing, as usual, his horn-rimmed glasses, Goldwater riared triumphantly into the flare on the podium after his unanimously elected running mate, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, had accepted the vice presidential nomination.

Balloons cascaded down on the Arizona senator as pandemonium broke loose.

Miller, noted as a rough-and-tumble campaigner, played down his role with a short speech in which he said he was happy to be standing in the campaign at the side of "a man who more than any other I have ever known in American life speaks the truth to the people."

courageously stands for principle, and devotes himself completely to keeping America free."

The formalities having been observed and the 28th Republican Convention over, Goldwater turned his attention to taking over the command of the GOP National Committee.

The presidential candidate acted in advance to pick Dean Burch, second man in his campaign command, to replace Miller as head of the committee. He said he wants to bring the committee actively into the campaign and to channel any future patronage through it.

The triumph of Goldwater's conservatism left some wounds unhealed among some of those who had opposed his nomination. Michigan Gov. George W. Romney said that unless the nominee demonstrates that he is willing to go beyond the platform in some vital areas, such as civil rights, "I will go home and campaign for Michigan Republicans."

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York, who was one of the most active opponents of the Arizona senator before his nomination, left the Cow Palace immediately after Goldwater's speech. He was followed by about half the New York delegation, setting off a stir of speculation that they were staging a protest walkout.

However, New York National Committeeman George Hinman said there was no such intention, and other New York Republicans said all that was involved was an effort to beat the traffic out of the Cow Palace area.

About as near as Goldwater came to the civil rights issue in his acceptance speech was his declaration: "We do not seek to live anyone's life for him—we seek only to secure his rights."

'Separate' Drive For Barry Seen In Colorado

By GORDON G. GAUSS
Associated Press Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Colorado backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater for President intend to set up a campaign organization separate from the regular Republican Party organization in an effort to carry the state for the Arizona senator.

Herb Koether, chairman of the Goldwater for President Committee, which led the drive that captured 15 of the state's 18 national convention votes for Goldwater, outlined the plan today.

Although Koether emphasized that the Goldwater organization (Turn to Page A4, Column 5)

'Rosy Outlook' Seen by LBJ for Nation's Economy

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP)—A rosy outlook for the nation's economy was projected today from facts and figures reported from the White House, and President Johnson hailed "our strong and balanced economic expansion."

He commented after the Commerce Department reported Thursday a $10 billion rise in the annual rate of the gross national product for the April-June quarter over that for the preceding three months.

That came only a few hours after Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz visited the White House to report to Johnson that total non-farm employment and weekly factory earnings reached record high levels during June.

The announcements broke a self-imposed silence at the White House during most of the Republican national convention, and still contained no direct reference to Republican charges of "fiscal irresponsibility" against the Democrats.

"All I'm reporting is the facts. You interpret them," Wirtz told newsmen.

The Commerce Department made its own announcement of a record $618.5 billion yearly rate for the gross national product—the sum of all goods and services, government and private.

It was the 14th straight quarter, dating back to early 1961 in which the figure has set a new high, and the figure was $100 billion higher than that during the 1960 recession.

Summarizing the statistics, Johnson said:

"Consumers stepped up their savings, putting them in a better position to buy more in the months ahead."

"Merchants and manufacturers persistently held their inventories down, so further rises in demand will be quickly reflected in higher production.

"Businessmen spent more for plant and equipment, and their plans call for a continued vigorous rise in the months ahead."

Consumer expenditures accounted for $6 billion of the increase.

Another American Soldier Killed In Viet Nam War

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Army enlisted man was killed by Viet Cong fire shortly before dawn today as government forces launched an operation against guerrillas in the Mekong River delta.

The American died near the provincial capital of Can Tho, 80 miles southwest of Saigon.

The death brought to 159 the number of U.S. servicemen killed in combat in Viet Nam since December 1961.

Earlier today a U.S. spokesman reported that five U.S. Navy Seabees were wounded when guerrillas ambushed their station wagon Thursday near the southern tip of Viet Nam.

The spokesman said four of the men received only minor wounds and the fifth was brought to a Saigon hospital but his condition was not serious.

The ambush occurred as the Seabees were driving on a road paralleling a canal. Guerrillas concealed along the opposite bank opened up on the vehicle with a machine gun and rifle grenades.

Meanwhile, Premier Nguyen Khanh sent two teams of investigators to the northern border area to check his contention that Communist North Vietnamese troops are crossing the frontier.

Triple Satellites Are Launched at Cape Kennedy

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Two Sentry satellites and a tiny Pygmy satellite rocketed into great egg-shaped orbits today in a complex triple launching that could lead to United States' development of a fool-proof system to detect illicit nuclear explosions in space.

The trio of radiation-sensing packages rode into space atop a tiny powerful Atlas-Agena rocket that blazed brilliantly in the early morning darkness at 3:22 a.m. EST.

The Air Force reported 20 minutes later that the 10-story-tall booster had drilled the three satellites into separate highly elliptical orbits.

The exact path was not known immediately but early tracking information indicated the payloads were very close to the intended course ranging from 120 to 63,000 miles above the earth.

All three space messengers were flashing clear radio signals to ground stations.

It was the fourth time the United States had orbited three satellites with one rocket. The record is four in one shot set by another Atlas-Agena last year.

American Food Sent to Brazil's Hungry, Needy

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Roman Catholics and protestants have joined hands in a voluntary program that is getting American food to more than two million needy Brazilians.

The program, which gets its supplies from U.S. Food for Peace, is the biggest of its kind in the world.

It began three years ago with a handful of workers. Today, nearly 100,000 men and women, half of them on a part-time basis, contribute their time to this task. Many are retired businessmen and housewives.

The U.S. government supplies the food and transports it to Brazilian docks. But once there, the job becomes the responsibility of Brazilian men and women and organizations, headed by the Brazil Voluntary Agency. This allies the Catholic Relief Service, the Protestant Church World Service and Lutheran World Relief, all cooperating with Brazilian agencies.

Costs of the program in Brazil are almost totally paid by the Brazilian church organizations. The Brazilian government helps by giving duty-free entry to the food from America, providing some warehouses and some transportation.

But the firm backbone of the operation is the mass of men and women who volunteer their time.

Through them, food is distributed in cities such as Rio De Janeiro and Sao Paulo, and, more difficult, in many small towns and communities in the vast Brazilian interior.

The network now includes 12,000 Catholic distribution centers that reach two million persons and 3,200 protestant centers that reach half a million.

The program began in 1961 with three full-time Catholic relief service workers. It has expanded to include 258 full-time, paid Catholic relief service workers and 94 fulltime, paid workers for the Church World Service and Lutheran World Relief.

This year the Catholic Organizations will distribute 60,000 tons of food, the protestant organizations 34,000 tons.

One of the most unusual aspects of the program is the way Roman Catholics and protestants have joined hands in what numerically is the most Roman Catholic country in the world.

Each holds annual conventions to which the other sends delegates. Monthly meetings are held to discuss problems. On the diocesan and parish level there are frequent contacts and out in the field, when occasion arises, each helps the other.

Only One Feudal King Still Reigns in Africa

By IAN McCauslan D MONGU, Barotseland (AP)—

I've just had tea with the last of Africa's feudal kings — the Litunga of Barotseland, otherwise Sir Mwanawina Lewanika III, KBE (Knight Commander of the Order of the British Empire).

As we drank, pictures of British royalty gazed down on us from every wall in the reception hall of his thatched-roof, many-roomed palace at Leaului, nine miles by barge across the flooded Zambezi Plains from Mongu, capital of this British protectorate.

In fact, every British monarch since Queen Victoria is there, though Victoria — "the great white mother" — dominates them all.

The Litunga, in his 80s though he won't admit it, is intensely pro-British.

Union Jacks are to be seen everywhere in this remote, sandy country sandwiched between Northern Rhodesia and Angola. The Litunga would like to see them stay, even though it has already been decided that Barotseland will be merely another province of Dr. Kenneth Kaunda's Central African Territory.

He showed me the rather tattered agreement made by Queen Victoria's emissaries in 1900 with his father, King Lewanika, which granted Barotseland protectorate status "in perpetuity" and said: "I am disappointed with Britain. They are not standing by their agreement."

He said he would probably go to London "to see what I can do."

And though he didn't say as much, he indicated it was a forlorn hope.

The last time he went to Britain, where he buys his tailored suits, he decided to sail from Cape Town, which gave him a headache. He could not travel with whites, but he must travel first class. So two reserved coaches for the Litunga and his entourage were attached to the train.

Even at home the traditions of his Lozi people are being eaten away bit by bit. Until now, strict rules of etiquette covered audiences with the Litunga, whereby the person seeking the audience approached the palace on hands and knees, sometimes with his nose in the sand, punctuating progress with clapping.

Now he receives visitors in the manner that they find correct and normal. Even so, the majority of Lozis still find it "correct and normal" almost to

Postal Strike Ends In Great Britain

LONDON (AP)—Striking British postal workers returned today to a mountain of 28 million letters waiting to be sorted and delivered.

More than 120,000 mailmen and sorters struck for 24 hours Thursday in support of demands for a 10 per cent increase in their basic wage of $33.60 a week. The government has offered 4 per cent.

VENTURI HITS GOLD

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — Ken Venturi, the popular 33-year-old pro from Hillsborough, Calif., actually pocketed $27,000 for winning the recent U. S. Open golf championship at the 7,053-yard Congressional Country Club.

As soon as he finished the 72 holes with a brilliant 278 score, Fred Koehler, sales manager for his sponsor (U.S. Rubber), placed a $10,000 check in his hand. Almost two hours later the USGA gave him a $17,000 check as the winner's share.

Other benefits, such as a television appearance and a series of written golf lessons, followed immediately along with requests for exhibitions and automatic qualification for the PGA championship.

40 Persons Recover American Citizenship

PARIS (AP)—The U.S. Embassy says 40 persons in France, recovered their American citizenship last month under terms of a recent Supreme Court decision.

The decision said naturalized Americans living abroad do not lose their citizenship because of prolonged residence outside the United States. Under previous application of the law such persons were resumed to have lost or jeopardized their citizenship.

tic, impartial appraisal and "try to make either Greece or Turkey accept a solution." But they add quickly that they expect any decision to favor Turkey because "justice and right are on our side."

Greece and the Greek Cypriots want a plebiscite on the island off Turkey's southern coast. With the Greek Cypriots in a 4-to-1 majority, that would mean an end to the Turkish minority's special rights and probably union with Greece.

What does Turkey want?

1. Division of the island between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots and annexation of the parts to Greece and Turkey.

2. A federal state, joining the two communities into a union of equals.

3. Establishment of a government for Cyprus that would support the independence agreements, the constitution and the Turkish minority's rights in the constitution.

The Greek Cypriots and Greece oppose all three.

quarter's increase, a smaller percentage than the $8.7 billion added by consumers to the first quarter's $9.8 billion advance.

The quarterly gain bore out predictions made by Administration economists in January. They forecast then a 1964 total of $623 billion. The figure last year was $583.9 billion.

Wirtz said non-farm employment hit a record high of $9.1 million in June, an increase of nearly 2 million from May, and record weekly overtime work of 3.2 hours boosted earnings to $103.50 per week, another new high.

Although unemployment rose to 5.3 per cent of the labor force in June, compared with 5.1 per cent in May, the Labor Department said this was considerably better than the 5.7 figure of June 1963.

Exams for City Firemen Slated Here Thursday

Examinations for firemen and to secure an eligibility list for captains and battalion chiefs in the Fire Department will be given this month.

The examinations for persons wishing to become firemen will be given at 7 p.m. Thursday in the City Auditorium.

The written test for captains will be given at 9 a.m. July 29 and for battalion chiefs at 9 a.m. July 30. Both exams will be given in the City Auditorium, with subsequent oral exams for the civil service commission to be given later. Physical examinations will also be given.

From the top men, two battalion chiefs and three new captains will be selected; these men are needed because of the operation of the new No. 7 station and the recent retirement of Capt. Albert E. Leonard.

All captains with at least one year of service are eligible to take the examinations for battalion chief.

All first class firemen with at least three years of service with the fire department are eligible to take the captain's tests.

As of now, the department consists of 106 men classified as one chief, one deputy chief, two assistant chiefs, three battalion chiefs, 21 captains, 20 drivers, 53 firemen and one secretary.

Interested applicants for the firemen positions should contact the personnel director's office on the top floor of City Hall for application blanks and more information.

Applicants must be between 21 and 29 years of age, weight at least 140 pounds, stand at least 5 feet 8 inches tall and completed at least two years in an accredited high school, although GED certificates will be accepted in lieu of high school credits.

There are now no names on the fire department civil service eligibility list, and there will be two vacancies by the time the written, oral and physical tests have been completed.

Goldwater to Make Cuba Key Foreign Policy Issue

pression on U.S. voters.

—It would impart to his discussion of the tensely controversial problem special "immediacy and vividness."

—And his address would serve as the opening shot in his fight to sweep the South — a basic factor in his strategy to win the presidency.

While no date has been fixed for the formal launching of Goldwater's campaign, two tentative decisions have been reached.

Prescott, Ariz., where he made his first speech for a Senate seat and where an uncle built up a leading department store, for sentimental reasons is his choice for the "opening salvo"; the campaign should get aggressively underway by mid-August — several days before the Democrats hold their national convention at Atlantic City.

This early start is strongly favored by most of Goldwater's inner circle, on the theory that the additional time is highly desirable to permit him to fully "spell out" in nationwide radio-TV addresses his underlying concepts and views.

Goldwater campaign strategy calls for "unprecedented" use of the airwaves, with several or more broadcast addresses a week throughout his two-and-a-half months of projected campaigning.

Both the candidate and his advisers feel he can best "communicate" in this way.

TWO HEART ISSUES — In singling out and concentrating on Cuba as the over-riding foreign policy issue it is Goldwater's belief that this is one of two powerful "emotional" factors that greatly favor him and, as his lieutenants put it, "the utmost should be made of them."

The other deeply "emotional issue," as they see it, is the backlash on civil rights.

It can be stated positively that this will not be publicly exploited in any way. At the same time no secret is made of the belief that the "fallout" resulting from persistent demonstrations, violence and other disturbances will potentially rebound to Goldwater's benefit.

In castigating the Democratic record on Communist-dominated Cuba, the Republican presidential candidate will propound a concrete program of his own. He will propose both direct and indirect U.S. measures to "liberate the Cuban people" by intensifying pressure on Castro "both from within and from without." Toward that end Goldwater will advocate the following specific actions:

—Providing U.S. arms and financial aid to Cuban refugees, and permitting them to train and operate from bases in the U.S. as well as the Caribbean.

—Establishing and recognizing a Cuban government in exile.

—Waging vigorous propaganda war against the Communist Castro regime, including extensive dropping of leaflets and other literature throughout Cuba by U.S. planes.

—Intensifying the economic blockade against the island.

Each task force will prepare one or more "position papers" that will cover every major issue in the campaign. Upon approval by Goldwater, these studies and findings will be published as official campaign documents.

In addition to regular press coverage, some of these position papers will be given further distribution in the form of advertisements in newspapers in key voting areas.

It is the GOP candidate's intention to have his national campaign headquarters in Washington function closely together with both the National Committee and the Senate and House Campaign Committees.

CONVENTION FLASHES — Forty of the convention delegates are laborites. Busiest union lobbyist is Sidney Zagari, legislative counsel of the Teamsters, who distributed to every state delegation "individual kits" containing more than 5 pages of material about Jimmy Hoffa's numerous legal battles with Attorney General Robert Kennedy. Jean Dixon, Washington prognosticator who forecast the assassination of President Kennedy, is making a curious prediction regarding Senator Goldwater. "It's confusing," she says. "I can see him in the White House. I can't explain it."

Stalled Car Stolen From Peterson Field

A 1955 Ford two-door sedan belonging to Arnold Swack, 2338 E. Highway 24 was stolen sometime during the past three weeks, the sheriff's office reported Thursday.

According to Deputy Sheriff Lee Quin, the vehicle had a flat tire and dead battery and had been left at Peterson Field. It had not been driven for three weeks.

The car is red and white with no bumpers or license tags.

Coins Reported Taken From Vending Machine

Thieves broke into the miniature golf course at 2398 E. Boulder St. and stole approximately $4 in coins from a vending machine, two pin ball and an automatic bowling machine, the sheriff's office said Thursday.

Damage to the machines is unknown, Deputy Sheriff David Sturgeon reported.

Top assistants of Goldwater are firmly convinced his advocacy of such a militant program will evoke wide and enthusiastic response among Democrats as well as Republicans, both in the North and in the South.

LEAF FROM THE OTHER CAMP — To assist him in formulating and presenting his views and proposals on foreign and domestic issues, the Republican nominee will set up a number of "task forces" headed by leading authorities in their field.

In doing this, Goldwater is taking a leaf from campaign strategy employed in 1960 by the late President Kennedy.

Under consideration for director of the foreign policy task force is Robert Strauss-Hupe, 60, head of the Foreign Policy Research Institute of the University of Pennsylvania. A vigorous advocate of the hard-line approach in relations with Communist regimes, Strauss-Hupe also favors stronger U.S. ties with western European nations, particularly France and West Germany.

Another likely member of this task force is Stefan T. Possony, 50, of the Hoover Institute of Stanford University. Like Goldwater, Possony opposed the nuclear test ban treaty and is against selling grain to Communist countries unless they grant major concessions in the cold war.

Other task forces and experts who will be asked to serve on them are:

Dr. Edward Teller, noted atomic scientist and "father" of the H-bomb; Milton Friedman, University of Chicago monetary authority; Karl D. Butler, former Cornell University agricultural specialist; G. Warren Nutter, University of Virginia economist; Gottfried Haberler, Harvard economist; Gerhard Wiemeyer, Notre Dame political scientist.

Slated to be coordinator of the task force is Edward A. McCabe, 46, Washington attorney, now Goldwater's chief research assistant. McCabe was assistant general counsel on President Eisenhower's White House staff, and has been one of Goldwater's key advisers for more than a year.

Both Eisenhower and former Vice President Nixon will be asked to serve as "advisers" during the campaign, exactly in what capacity has not yet been determined.

Republican members of both branches of Congress also will be asked to join various task forces. Already a number of them are being sounded out on this, notably Representative Melvin Laird, Wis., chairman of the GOP Platform Committee.

Each task force will prepare one or more "position papers" that will cover every major issue in the campaign. Upon approval by Goldwater, these studies and findings will be published as official campaign documents.

In addition to regular press coverage, some of these position papers will be given further distribution in the form of advertisements in newspapers in key voting areas.

It is the GOP candidate's intention to have his national campaign headquarters in Washington function closely together with both the National Committee and the Senate and House Campaign Committees.

Goldwater Can Publicly Be Called 'Ham'

By SAUL PETT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Reflections on the Republican National Convention:

Harold Stassen's mistake was that he peaked too early—in 1948.

Bill Scranton's mistake was that he didn't peek—at the letter somebody wrote and signed for him calling Goldwater everything but a Democrat.

Bill Miller became the GOP vice presidential nominee in 54 minutes, in this free and open convention. It took longer than that to get from the lobby to the 12th floor of the Mark Hopkins.

The only quiet hotels this week were in the suburbs—of Portland.

This is going to be the first campaign in history in which you could publicly call a candidate for president a ham. At 5:30 a.m., while the delegates were trying to sleep it off, there he was talking to all those kids in amateur radio land. "This is K7UGA, Portland 6. The handle is Barry. Baker Able Robert Robert Yankee." Some day, on the hot line, he may hear: "The samovar is Nikky. Nyet Immovable."

Dick Nixon thanked the convention for letting him run for president in 1960. Isn't four years a bit long for a bread and butter note?

On the platform, Nixon had something nice to say about almost everybody. Goldwater, Eisenhower, Scranton, Rockefeller, Lodge, even the press. He felt differently about reporters in 1962, just after losing the governor's race in California. Must be that, in the last two years, the delivery boy has finally learned to hit the porch.

At the end the press was coming back strong. Tuesday Gen. Eisenhower got the loudest hand of his speech when he denounced "sensation-seeking columnists and commentators." People in the gallery yelled "Throw 'em out!" But on Wednesday they gave us back our room keys. Thursday morning the Washington delegation caucused and adopted a resolution praising press coverage of the group. An hour later the Virginia delegation did the same. Thursday night Nixon was swinging over. With two more days we might have gotten Barry into the Newspaper Guild.

Goldwater received a huge ovation when he appeared on the platform under a cloud of tumbling balloons. Balloons popped loudly all over the place, making you wonder whether the Scranton forces were really re-treating gracefully. Unlike times past, Goldwater had nothing but praise for the Eisenhower administration. Apparently the "dimestore New Deal" has moved uptown.

In convention week, same-day laundry service means same day next week. And so we leave our hearts and shirts in San Francisco.

Atlanta Court Hearing Set for Civil Rights Law

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA (AP)—A two-pronged federal attempt to force compliance with the new civil rights law has been set for hearing today by a three-judge court.

In the nation's first court test of the law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has asked for injunctions against segregation practices of a motel and a restaurant.

The two lawsuits were set before Judge Elbert P. Tuttle, presiding judge of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, and District Judges Lewis R. Morgan and Frank A. Hooper.

A suit was brought by the Heart of Atlanta Motel Corp. against Kennedy and asks an injunction barring enforcement of the law. The motel also seeks $11 million in damages from the government on a claim its business will be ruined by compliance.

Kennedy filed a counter-suit to force compliance.

In the second suit, three Negroes seek an order prohibiting segregationist leader Lester Maddox from operating his Atlanta restaurant on a white-only basis.

They went into court after Maddox and a crowd of whites chased them from the restaurant July 3.

Both the motel and the restaurant have contended the new law, signed by President Johnson only 15 days ago, is unconstitutional.

Attorneys for Maddox filed motions Thursday asking dismissal of the injunction suit on grounds that the restaurant was not subject to the interstate commerce provision of the law.

"I'm taking the day off. I don't feel very snooty today."

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, M.D., Ph.D.

Harry has an undue fear that is making him defer his wedding. But his worry is unnecessary for modern doctors can handle all such emergencies easily. But until you laymen get the facts, you can grow almost neurotic, so be grateful your editor gives you the medico-psychological facts for happier living.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE T-422: Harry J., aged 24, is a famous pro football star. "Dr. Crane," he began, "I am in love with a wonderful girl named Janet."

"But she is only 5'2" while I am 6'4".

"She weighs only 108 while I tip the scales at 224. So I have delayed getting married lest she might die in childbirth."

"For both of us would like to have children. But suppose her babies were 9 or 10-pounders. What then?"

CAESARIAN BIRTH

Harry need not worry any longer on that score, though a couple of centuries ago this problem was very real.

For we medicos couldn't expect to perform Caesarian sections on live women until the advent of anesthesia.

Nowadays, however, the discovery of various types of anesthesia and all the innovations of modern aseptic surgery, have made it just about as safe to have a baby by Caesarian as by the usual pelvic route.

"But, Dr. Crane," Harry protested, "could my wife have more than one baby by Caesarian section?"

Yes, it is perfectly safe to have a normal sized family. Some wives have born 6 or 8 babies, all by Caesarian section.

But Harry might not even need to invoke the aid of Caesarian section for it is surprising how easily women can deliver rather large babies nowadays.

Besides, the doctor will try to make sure Harry's wife doesn't eat to excess and this may lop off one or two pounds from the size of the baby.

Moreover, a neat little surgical incision called an "episiotomy" is usually performed, especially on a wife having her first infant.

When the baby's head is showing, the doctor simply puts the mother under brief anesthesia and then uses a scissor to make a cut at the 4 o'clock point.

This cut widens the outlet and thus permits a large baby to be born without undue stretching or tearing.

Then, after the baby is born under surgical anesthesia, the doctor puts in a few stitches to repair the episiotomy.

So it is quite likely that Harry's wife wouldn't need to resort to Caesarian childbirth at all, despite the differences in their height and weight.

But if she does need a Caesarian, it is always available at the time of childbirth.

Furthermore, many of you laymen grow unduly apprehensive about blood loss at the time of childbirth.

But most of the so-called blood is simply blood tinged amniotic fluid.

Prior to birth, the infant is suspended in the womb and surrounded by almost a quart of a clear liquid called amniotic fluid.

And you know, from washing a cut finger, that even a spoonful of blood can color an entire wash basin red until it looks as if a gallon of blood has been shed. Yet it is mostly blood tinged water!

So send for my booklet "Facts About Pregnancy and Foster Children," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It can relieve undue worry!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

DIVISION CLOSED

GOLDEN (UPI)—The Coors Porcelain Co. said Wednesday it had closed its energy products division which was formed in 1960. Officials said efforts were being made to keep most of the 65 employees on the payroll. The division was dropped after the loss of a $700,000 Defense Department contract. It formerly had a 2-year contract worth $4.2 million for producing fuel elements for the Tory IIC nuclear reactor.

Which came first: the golf ball or Gordon's Gin?

Golf dates back to the 15th Century when a ball stuffed with feathers was used. In 1848 the "guttie"—a hard, moulded ball that was the direct forerunner of our modern golf ball—was introduced in Britain. In London, 79 years before this innovation, Alexander Gordon perfected his formula for a special gin. Today, golfers the world over relax at the Nineteenth Hole and enjoy the delicate flavour and distinctive dryness of Gordon's Gin. Some claim that Gordon's offers considerable consolation as they total their score. No wonder it's the biggest seller in England, America, the world!

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is self-control, no more, no less. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides, as the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The Union Dragon Revisited

There is a reverend gentleman existence of unionism as a belief in Metaline Falls, Washington, who thinks we are being "very unfair" to unions. He says so in a letter we have in today's Open Parliament section.

The Reverend Mr. Bjork says that we can't accuse the United Auto Workers of communism in their leadership by saying that they want full socialism. How can that be "fair"?

Well, sir, that is just what we are going to do in our own way. We aren't accusing Walter Reuther and his henchmen of wanting communism in any Russian sense. We did not say or so ago, a firm with an investment capital of $1 million might reasonably expect to earn 6 per cent on its investment.

Today, with probably $2 million invested, it will earn, in all probability less than 5 per cent. Mr. Bjork is taking a look, along with union schemers, not at the dollars invested but at the dollar flow in return. A six per cent return on a million dollars is $60,000. A five per cent return on $2 million is $100,000. Mr. Bjork sees the difference between $60,000 and $100,000 and says profits have risen. The fact is that the rate of profits has dropped.

The worker may know that stock splits occur, but we doubt very much if he knows what it means. A stock split doesn't increase profits. It creates more shares of stock. It does not put more capital into the business, directly. But it may encourage more purchases of stock on the market because through a split the market price of each share is reduced. Management has to pay dividends on every share of stock outstanding.

Let's spell it out. Suppose a company has 10,000 shares of stock outstanding. Suppose that this company has made a success and such shares are now being traded at $100 on the market. By making a split, the company will now service 20,000 shares of stock. And the market price will drop to $50 per share.

A man holding one share valued at $100, will now own two shares valued at $50 each. Prior to the split he will have earned $6 per share per year. Following the split he will now earn $3 per share on each share.

Where are the increased profits? They will come, if they come at all, through increased production and sales. They will come by holding costs down and putting quality production up.

We trust Mr. Bjork will understand that we are not saying that union men are either vicious or depraved. This is not true. The vast majority of union men are fine, hard-working, upstanding people. Mr. Reuther himself, although we thoroughly disagree with his ideas, is entirely sincere, so far as we know, in seeking to establish a Soviet America. We believe he honestly thinks working men will be better off if we adopt complete socialism in America.

But let's come to grips with this point. Mr. Bjork says that unionism merely wants a "fair share" of an expanding market.

Mr. Bjork is misinformed. The

Wages

Unemployment is caused by increasing wages at the expense of customers and stock holders. But low wages are not the answer. In a productive economy the only economic wage is the highest possible. But this wage must be earned on the basis of production, not on the basis of redistribution.

Labor Unions Advance Socialism

We are engaged in responding to the Reverend E. A. Bjork of Metaline Falls, Washington. Mr. Bjork doesn't seem to understand the workings of the stock market and imagines that unions are "fair." Please read our preceding editorial.

Why does any firm institute a stock split? It does so, usually, at a time when it proposes to expand its operations and wants to offer new shares of stock. If the price per share is fairly high, this will discourage purchase of new shares. This will make a stock issue less acceptable to the public.

If the firm requires new capital in order to expand, it may seek to attract this new money by splitting existing shares. Should this occur, then the market price of each share will drop.

But the firm will still have to pay dividends on its full capitalization. And if this expands, then it will have to pay dividends on the new shares as well as all the old shares.

Mr. Bjork now comes face to face with reality in his letter. He observes that $3.10 per hour isn't much good if prices continue to rise so that $3.10 won't buy what it did before.

Well, what causes the supply of money or credit to increase?

UNFAIR

To the Editor: Let me preface my remarks by saying I do not belong to a union. Nevertheless, I think your editorial of today is very unfair. The Union Dragon.

Firstly, you certainly can't accuse the United Auto Workers of communism in their leadership by saying they want full socialism. You know that's not true.

Secondly, to say that unionism represents "vicious depravity" just because it wants a fair share in an expanding market, where profits have been greater than ever before in the history of industry (the worker knows about stock splits), to say this is but to add coals to the fire instead of trying to see the workers' viewpoint. What good is $3.10 an hour if it doesn't buy $3.10 worth of merchandise?

Let management and economists find ways to stop inflation, then the workers will stop asking for more. Calling names solves nothing.

BELIEFS

To the Editor: There is quite a bit of misunderstanding among many Americans as to the reason why many of their fellow Americans do not want to support the United Nations, a world government, or an ecumenical movement toward a world church.

In the past 18 years, I've been traveling back and forth across our country primarily interested in religious activities. During this time I've read much literature from the various religious beliefs in our country and have entered into many religious discussions.

Many students of the Bible and other Christian publications such as "Halley's Bible Handbook," "The Interpreter's Bible," and "The Scofield Reference Bible," believe that a substitute the advance guard for a socialist take-over. Marx was wrong, of course, for it turned out that the "workers of the world" never did unite, in spite of his urgings. But this in no way removes the socialist taint of the unions, big and small.

Unions are organized to work against the interest of property owners, when the owners possess the tools of production. Unions have been fairly successful in this country by expanding the cause of unionism and assisting in the decline of a belief in the rights of the owners of the tools to manage their own affairs.

We hope Mr. Bjork will read up on the history of unionism, not only in this country but elsewhere in the world so that he comes to understand just what it is the labor bosses are striving to accomplish. When he does, we suspect he will know why we refer to unionism (not unionists) as "vicious depravity."

world government and a world church are the fulfillment of prophecy contained in the book of Revelations and will have no part in supporting either of these systems.

In Revelations (Chapt. 13), we have reference to a world emperor referred to as the Beast (No. 666) as a political leader controlling the people through an economic system.

In Chapter 17, we see 10 rulers identifying themselves with a city built on seven hills which they later destroy. This city is believed by millions of Bible students to be the City of Rome.

To many people I've met in our country, this confederation of a world government and a world church is basically anti-Christian and anti-freedom and they, therefore, want to give no support to it.

Whether or not all these people are interpreting this Scripture correctly does not alter the fact that they are influenced to think as they do.

One interpretation maintains that Nero fulfilled this prophecy of the Beast Emperor and that this reference is all to past history.

We study further into the next chapter (18) and find reference to this city being destroyed never more to be inhabited (verses 20-24).

It is important that we as a free people know why our fellow Americans think as they do. Silence is not always golden, and ignorance is not always bliss. If we bring our beliefs and information out into the open, we will better understand each other and be able to solve our problems.

EVIL IN OUR CITY

To the Editor: Because I shall not pass again this way and because you, Mr. Publisher, are a World War II vet, who risked your life for freedom overseas and are currently continuing the fight on your native soil, and because you were instrumental in freeing property owners of un-American rent controls, I again solicit your help in fighting another sinister evil in our city. It is the insidious edict destroying civil liberties of owners of rental unit buildings comprised of more than two stories. Have you paused to reflect upon grave injustices perpetrated against both property owners and tenants? Countless property owners cannot possibly comply with the advance guard for a socialist take-over. Marx was wrong, of course, for it turned out that the "workers of the world" never did unite, in spite of his urgings. But this in no way removes the socialist taint of the unions, big and small.

Unions are organized to work against the interest of property owners, when the owners possess the tools of production. INJUSTICE

To the Editor: I read Open Parliament regularly and appreciate the privilege of having my views printed.

I am writing because I believe an injustice is being done. There is a handicapped man who sells newspapers on the corner of Pikes Peak and Tejon. He has for several years now, and never misses a day, no matter how hot or cold the weather. But now that Baker's Shoes have opened they are trying to force him to quit selling newspapers on that corner, in front of their store. It is my opinion that they should not be allowed to say who can be on the sidewalk and who cannot. If they can stop him, can they also stop the buses from stopping out in front? I think he

Poor Old Main Street

By GEORGE BOARDMAN

Main Street is the center of any town, whether the street is named Dewey, Flagstaff, Broadway, Central or First, but it is not just a street. Main Street is the doctor, lawyer, druggist, dentist, hardware store, camera shop, sporting goods store, photographer, new and used car dealer, grocery store, butcher, pet shop, electrical contractor, appliance dealer and dozens of service organizations, gas stations, motels, hotels, newspaper and magazine stands, popcorn purveyors, theaters, and probably the neighborhood chamber of commerce which exists, courtesy of Main Street, but can hardly see the street for the forest of images called industry or big business. The local chamber of commerce does not stand alone, shortsightedly, unfortunately.

Various schools of economics, systems of economic theory, experts in the field of economics, politicians and political cohorts and thousands of teachers of economic theory ignore Main Street like a plague and for a very good reason. Main Street refuses to conform!

A few years ago a famous credit reporting agency, confronted with facts and figures which indicated that the average Main Street business owner earned less for his knowledge, integrity, investment; and too many hours of labor than a dock walkover, decided to find out why Main Street merchants and professional people didn't go out of business.

To begin with, it was discovered that the Main Street merchant placed a high value on his independence and his reputation for integrity and service, and if you think these factors don't house up the experts, you have never tried to talk with an expert.

With an assortment of facts and figures on hand, the credit reporting agency discovered that too many Main Street business concerns managed to stay in business despite insurmountable odds and decided to toss out facts and figures which did not coincide with the theories.

I don't know how many millions of words are written each year on the subject of economics but I do know that political theorists invariably ignore Main Street, without which big business would be in trouble and might find it difficult to exist.

Read through a few books, magazines and trade publications and you'll find such trite phrases as labor-management problems, automation problems, personnel adjustment, management training, executive life expectancy and on and on. Without Main Street these problems would not exist, nor would big business, giant industry or this newspaper! Don't ever forget it!

Main Street resists classification, pat phrases, theories and organization and it is the most potent force against all shades of socialism and fascism and unrealistic economic theory should be admired for his desire and determination to support himself, rather than be belittled and harassed.

I certainly hope neither Baker Shoe or anyone else has power to say who can or cannot use the public sidewalks in America.

MRS. I. C. DOUGLAS
2712 Tremont

Editor's note: Baker's Shoes is not trying to "stop" him from selling papers but is trying to get city council permission for a stand or other protection for him so he could comfortably sell papers from the curb rather than right in front of their windows.

COMMENDABLE

To the Editor: Although I am not professionally active in politics, as an impartial observer, I could not help but notice several positive and commendable characteristics of Senator Barry Goldwater that I believe will greatly aid him in winning the Republican nomination for President of the United States, and also draw votes from all segments of society.

1. Senator Goldwater knows what he believes, and he believes what he knows.

2. Senator Goldwater is a hard worker for what he believes, as his work record as a United States Senator so clearly reveals.

3. Senator Goldwater does not hedge on current and timely issues, but frankly states his stand.

Many folks in all walks of life that I have talked with, declare that these attributes are all very refreshing.

PRECEDENCE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — No body knows why exactly, but it is traditional for the Republican Convention to precede the Democratic. The only exceptions were in 1888, 1956 and 1960. This year, the Democrats convene in Atlantic City, N.J., Aug. 24.

The 1964 GOP conclave marks the 108th anniversary of the party's first nominating convention, held at Philadelphia in 1856. Despite that longevity, the first Democratic convention occurred 24 years earlier.

Alarming Threat to U.S. Foreign Policy Discussed

By WARD CANNEL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK — We could not understand Attorney General Robert Kennedy's opening campaign for vice presidential nomination because Poland hardly ever sends delegates to the Democratic convention. And we are now able to re-learn that Mr. Kennedy's Polish of U.S. Bid and World re-learn-top tour was in reality only a smoke screen for turning the spotlight on the most alarming threat to U.S. foreign policy in a half-century. While the free world was distracted by Moscow-Peking fighting over Marxist ideology, Poland had made a surreptitious bid for Communist leadership by becoming the first Red bloc nation to enter the World Bridge Championships games held recently in New York.

And while they did not actually win, it is childishly simple for anyone who reads either the bridge or foreign news analysis to understand what Poland's tactics mean to already unbalanced international understanding. Actually, the Polish move is no surprise to regular readers port that Mr. Kennedy's Polish of U.S. Bid and World re-learn-top tour was in reality only a smoke screen for turning the spotlight on the most alarming threat to U.S. foreign policy in a half-century. While the free world was distracted by Moscow-Peking fighting over Marxist ideology, Poland had made a surreptitious bid for Communist leadership by becoming the first Red bloc nation to enter the World Bridge Championships games held recently in New York.

Mayor Blasts Goings on at GOP Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—For Tennessee delegate Guilford Dudley, the Republican national convention came at a high cost. Dudley told police that burglars took $16,000 worth of jewelry from his motel room. Said Dudley: "San Francisco is an expensive town to stay in."

San Francisco Chronicle columnist Herb Caen says that Chester G. Arthur, grandson of the 21st president of the United States, was kicked out of the Cow Palace by guards who believed his ticket was counterfeit. "You can't do this to me," Arthur said. But the guards did. Now that the Republican convention is over, Mayor John F. Shelley of San Francisco, the derby. Says one hawker at the Cow Palace: "I've never had a hotter item than them Smith buttons. If I wasn't so dumb, I would have ordered thousands of them."

Addressing some leaders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Shelley said that as he watched the convention on television he thought he was "witnessing things I had read from Mein Kampf."

Barry Goldwater may have won the Republican presidential nomination, but Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine seems to have won the campaign button.

Anzus Security Pact Meeting Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP)—Australia, New Zealand and the United States open today a two-day ANZUS security pact meeting that is expected to bring a strong reaffirmation of support for South Viet Nam.

The annual council of ministers meeting also was due to express hope for a peaceful settlement of the dispute between Indonesia and Malaysia, which has threatened to burst into full-scale guerrilla warfare in the jungles of Northern Borneo.

The closed-door meetings bring together Secretary of State Dean Rusk, New Zealand's Prime Minister Keith Holyoake and Australia's Minister of External Affairs Paul Hasluck.

Hasluck held a news conference Thursday night and pledged Australia's support of U.S. policies in South Viet Nam.

"We are putting our flag alongside the United States and South Viet Nam because we want to express publicly our resistance to Communist aggression and express publicly our intention to try and uphold these countries," he said.

He said Australia has made a "useful and more than symbolic contribution" in South Viet Nam and is considering more material military aid.

FLORIDA GETS SWEETER
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The U.S. boycott of Castro Cuba's sugar is sweetening Florida's production by the handful.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:

If Mrs. Housewife will place a pencil and piece of paper by her plate at the breakfast table and write down the chores of the day that come to her mind, she can save herself hours each day.

I used to think of the dozens of things I had to do, and started off harem - scared as soon as my husband was off to work and the children off to school.

Now, I take just a few minutes to put everything I have written down in a convenient order, to its importance.

This plan saves me hundreds of steps and immeasurable time standing around wondering what should be done next.

Try it! You'd be surprised. Don't let your chores boss you around... you boss them, and they will fall right into line like soldiers! —Mrs. W. I.

Dear Heloise:

I was given a lovely calendar towel for 1960 and I didn't want to use it for dishes so I am saving it as a keepsake for my granddaughter who was born that year.

I just gave a lovely linen one (1964) to a young friend whose baby was born this year, and I suggested that she save it for her daughter.

Some people search for calendar plates of their birth year so why not have a calendar towel? —Mrs. Vernon Wilson, Sr.

Dear Heloise:

Let me give you a tip, and don't laugh until you try it.

Hairs are extremely hard to pull out of a "hair brush." We break many combs trying to remove them.

Nylon net can be bought at most fabric and department stores for less than 40 cents a yard. Buy six inches of this. This will cost you less than seven cents! Besides, you will have some left over.

Take the six-inch width of three times the "length" of nylon net and cut off a piece three times the length of your hair brush. Fold the net from the handle over the brush part and back to the handle again, taking the little extra swatch left and wrapping it around the handle a few times.

"Then" brush your hair!

The nylon net will sink down into the hair brush but... the loose hairs will never get down into the bottom of the brush again, and your hair will stay cleaner between shampoos.

After brushing your hair with this, untwist the net, hold it over the waste basket and drop the hairs into that old waste basket.

Give it a whirl, friends. I am positive that you will love it and never use a hair brush again without first covering the bristles with nylon net. —Heloise

P.S. A length cut from the leg of a thin nylon ladies stocking works too. Just pull "tube" over hair brush bristles.

Dear Heloise:

Did you ever start to hook your dress in a hurry, and find that the eye was gone?

If you don't have time to sew on another eye, pin a medium-sized safety pin underneath the garment, and then hook through the bar made on top by the safety pin! —Justa Howe Swift, Rusha Long Street, Anywhere, USA

South employed guile to win a contract today that could have been defeated as the cards actually lay. Although his plan does not necessarily win our vote of approval, it points up the importance of psychology as one of the essential tools in declarer's kit.

West led the six of spades against three notrump and the trick was taken in the closed hand by the 10. Declarer could count six club tricks, the spade just won and the ace of diamonds. If the diamond finesse succeeded, his total would be increased to the required nine. There was a risk involved in taking the diamond finesse, however, for, if it lost and West was able to reach his partner with the ace of hearts, a spade lead through South's king-jack would probably enable West to cash enough tricks to defeat the contract. Of course, if West had the ace of hearts there was nothing to fear, for South's

Monsterism

NEW YORK (UPI) — Boo to the "monster look" in hair styles, says Mr. John, custom fashion originator.

He told the Lilt Reference Service that overzealous, huge hair styles are ugly. He recommends a soft, flowing style to go hand-in-hand with a well-bred look. He said hair styles, like hats should have pure and simple lines that show the face, reflect breeding and good manners. "You should see the woman first before you notice her hat or hair style," he said.

MEDFORD, Mass. (UPI)—If Tufts University graduates are typical of the year's half-million college graduates, young men and women with their new sheepskins are a far cry from their parents.

They expect to make more money, are less religious and more impatient with the unsettled state of the world, according to a survey of Tufts' grads.

A beginning salary of $6,266 is the average expected of those polled. Five years from now, they hope to earn nearly $10,000, jumping to $16,000 ten years hence. In 20 years, they expect to earn more than $25,000 a year.

Perhaps South's methods were a bit blatant, but it was admittedly difficult for East to be sure of what was going on. He could hardly know, for example, that West's opening lead had dislodged declarer's only spade stopper and that that suit was now ready to run. At any rate, East ducked the queen of hearts after smoo "soul wracking," and South quickly ran for cover with his nine tricks.

Of course, if East had both the ace of hearts and the king of diamonds, then declarer would have exposed himself to an unnecessary risk, since the diamond finesse would have succeeded. In that case, however, we would have had no story to tell.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jackie Robinson, former Dodger baseball star, has reportedly agreed to serve as national chairman of the Republicans for Johnson committee.

Attorney Crispus Wright said Thursday that Robinson agreed to lead the committee that will ask Negroes to push for the re-election of President Johnson.

"Negro Republicans have no choice but to defeat Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater at the ballot box in November," Wright said. "We must repudiate once and for all the ultra-conservative wing of the party that regards the 1964 civil rights law as unconstitutional."

Millers Are Friendly, Say Their Neighbors

OLCOTT, N.Y. (AP)—Rep. William E. Miller's salmon-pink summer home on a bluff overlooking Ontario was quiet today.

His two youngest children—Stephanie, 2½ and Billy, 5—played under the watchful eye of a housekeeper, oblivious to the excitement among the neighbors created by the 50-year-old New York congressman's nomination as the Republican candidate for vice president.

The neighbors described Miller and his family as the "kind of people you like to live next to, real friendly."

The Millers, although listing Olcott as their official residence, spend most of the year in Washington.

"We haven't seen much of them this summer," said Mrs. Robert Rooney.

Mrs. Russell Gardener of Staten Island, Mrs. Rooney's niece and a childhood companion of the Millers' two oldest daughters, Mary, 17, and Elizabeth, 20, described the girls as "regular American girl-types who liked to swim and play badminton."

"And even bake a cake once in a while," interjected Mrs. Rooney.

"When he (Miller) is talking politics, he is serious," said Allan W. Vandemark, Niagara County Republican chairman and a Miller neighbor.

"He really knows the answers and he never ducks issues. That's why he'll be tremendous."

"Hometown people recognize a person's ability and it's nice when this ability is recognized nationally," said Vandemark's pretty blonde wife.

Miller's next-door neighbor, J. Carl Fogle, has known Miller since he was a youngster.

"He's an able speaker, hard worker and well informed on subjects," said Fogle, a lawyer. "Sure, I'll vote for him."

Miller's travels as national Republican chairman have kept him busy.

The other night, neighbors and friends were reading a newspaper with a picture of Miller, his wife and two older daughters.

The newspaper was shown to Billy and Stephanie.

Billy had no comment.

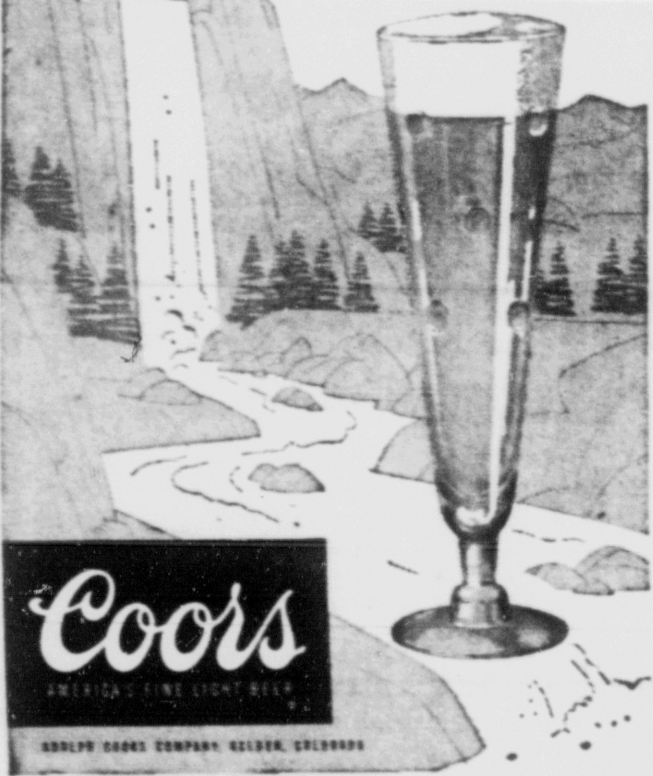

"I remember them," squealed Stephanie.

MILLION-DOLLAR JAGUAR— NOT FOR SALE!

At the time Rome fell, another city, another great civilization was rising—half way around the world.

The center of the first Mayan Empire, Chichen Itza, lifted its great pyramids above the forests of the Yucatan Peninsula on the east coast of Mexico in the fifth century, A.D.

Deep within the largest pyramid is a chamber dominated by a throne in the shape of a red jaguar, spotted with inserts of green jade. The Mexican government refused $1,000,000 for it 30 years ago!

Far to the north stand the remains of another ancient city, Teotihuacan, which housed 250,000 people in 700 A.D.

And only 35 miles from there is a modern capital of today's world—Mexico City. Here, the tall buildings are examples of the best in modern architecture. Commerce and industry, theater and the arts, education and medicine, people and customs—all are of today's world.

Knowledge of our modern neighbor is important today. Send for the free 16-page booklet, "Know Mexico," Box 1900, New York 19.

Pages Declare They Had a Ball At Convention

By WILBUR MARTIN
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The young Republicans who served as pages at the Republican national convention were the saddest of the "party people" to see it end Thursday night.
"We've had a ball," said Rush Milam, 15, of Waco, Tex.
"You bet," chimed in John Brown, 17, of Dallas.
These two, along with Carolyn Bennett, 25, of San Antonio, were pages for the Texas delegation. How did they get their jobs?
"You make application to the state committee," said Carolyn. The ones who were picked have folks who: Work hard for the party, keep the car handy, or give money. Things like that.
Another page is an old hand at politics. Max Rabb's dad was secretary of former President Eisenhower's cabinet.
"This one's had a lot of excitement in it," he said.
"I've been called every name in the book," said one young assistant sergeant-at-arms from Tennessee. "I'm supposed to keep people off the floor. They're all brothers or aunts of big shots."
John Sering of Boston is a young attorney who also was charged with seeing that "unauthorized persons" were not admitted onto the floor.
"The things I do for my party," he groaned after the umpteenth time he had his shins kicked by a pushing, shoving crowd of those with tickets, those without tickets and those who didn't know whether they had tickets or not.
But the glamour and excitement flickered out at last. The thousands of balloons that floated down when presidential nominee Barry Goldwater entered were all deflated, popped with cigarettes or stepped on as delegates fled toward hotel and home.
Was it worth it?
"Yes, sir," said the pages.

Walter Huston and his son, John, were the first father-son team to receive "Oscar" awards in the motion picture industry.

Solution Sought To Slaying of Three Policemen
LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga. (AP)—A rural sheriff seeking a solution to the gang-style execution of three policemen has compiled a list that he hopes includes the names of the killers.
The April 17 slayings in Gwinnett County, near Atlanta, shocked Georgia.
The policemen—Jerry R. Everett, 28; Ralph K. Davis, 49; and Marvin Jesse Gravitt, 52—were found manacled with their hands and feet tied together, and shot 14 times each.
Criminologists said at least three persons other than the victims were present when the men were shot down in a briar patch.
"People are beginning to loosen their tongues now," said Sheriff F. Quill Sammon of Gwinnett County. "We are getting some pertinent information. We are now trying to tie the actual evidence and the new information together."
Sammon declined to say how many names are on his list.
He said the slayings are linked with auto theft rings, "and definitely appear to be a professional killer's job."
Sammon said at least 100 persons with criminal records have been questioned in recent weeks.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service has announced three new research projects into how cigarette smoke affects living tissue.
The studies involve areas in which the surgeon general's advisory committee on smoking and health indicated more information was needed. The committee said in a report last January that cigarette smoking was harmful to health.
Surgeon General Luther L. Terry said Thursday that the National Cancer Institute had awarded more than $300,000 to support these studies.
A $107,535 contract to New York University Medical Center to isolate and identify chemicals in tobacco extracts and smoke that may act as indirect cancer agents.
A $103,575 contract to Food and Drug Research Laboratories, New York, to investigate changes taking place in the windpipes of laboratory animals exposed to cigarette smoke.
A $104,446 contract to Hazleton Laboratories, Falls Church, Va., to help evaluate the relation of tobacco smoke, nickel dust and ozonized hydrocarbons to lung cancer in animals.
WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials said Thursday the number of Greek troops on the Mediterranean island of Cyprus may actually run as high as 7,000 because of infiltration.
Since Cyprus became independent four years ago, the Greeks have maintained a force of about 950 men on the island and the Turks about 650.
U.S. authorities say that in the last six to eight weeks the Greeks have taken the lead in infiltrating men onto the island, and the Turks then started sending in soldiers to maintain the military equation there.
The United States and its allies have repeatedly warned both Greece and Turkey against sending troops to the island.

CITY SERVICE AWARD—Colorado Springs City Manager John M. Biery is shown here presenting a 30-year service pin to Mrs. Hazel Pickett, 934 E. She has served in that capacity during the tenure of five superintendents, including the present one, Dee Rhodes. She does some free lance writing and also does some painting as a hobby. The city manager said she had been one of the most faithful and conscientious employees the city has ever had.

Topless Bathing Suit Revealed Too Much

CHICAGO (AP)—Miss Toni Lee Shelly, 19, a model who revealed the topless bathing suit at a public beach, discovered Thursday she had revealed too much.
She was found guilty of indecent exposure by a Municipal Court jury of eight women and four men after nearly 3½ hours of deliberation.
Prosecutors showed the jury a full-sized mannikin dressed in a topless suit to help them decide whether wearing the bare-breasted costume constituted indecent exposure.
Sentencing was postponed to allow the defense time to file a motion for a new trial. The maximum sentence is a $200 fine and one year in the county jail.

Cadillac
YOU MAY BE LOSING MONEY BY PAYING LESS
There are many cars that cost almost as much as a Cadillac. But it is a matter of fact that the decision to buy one of them could be a false economy.
Consider the major items included in the basic price of a Cadillac that are usually extra on other cars: automatic transmission, high-performance engine, power steering, power brakes, automatic cornering lights, and power windows on most models.
Then think of what a new Cadillac can save you on operation and maintenance. Cadillac is actually the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in gasoline efficiency—and it is so soundly built that it has reduced upkeep expense to the practical minimum.
You're ahead again—every mile you drive.
Finally, reflect on Cadillac's historically high trade-in value. No car at or near its price preserves so much of its owner's original investment through the years.
So add it all up. You'll see what most owners mean when they say you don't spend more for a Cadillac. You just invest a little more—and get a lot more back.
If a Cadillac has long been in your plans, visit your dealer and get all the dollars-and-cents facts.

Former Judge Florence City Council Speaker

C. A. Fredrickson, former judge and a Canon City insurance agent, has been invited to address the Florence city council Monday night on the subject of Home Rule cities.

Fredrickson was instrumental in helping to get a home rule charter for Canon City during the late 1940's and is an advocate of this form of government.

The Florence council, headed by Mayor Charles Cristelli, has shown some interest in obtaining Home Rule status for Florence.

Several months ago, Fredrickson was a guest of the Florence Lions club and discussed at some length the various merits of the Home Rule system.

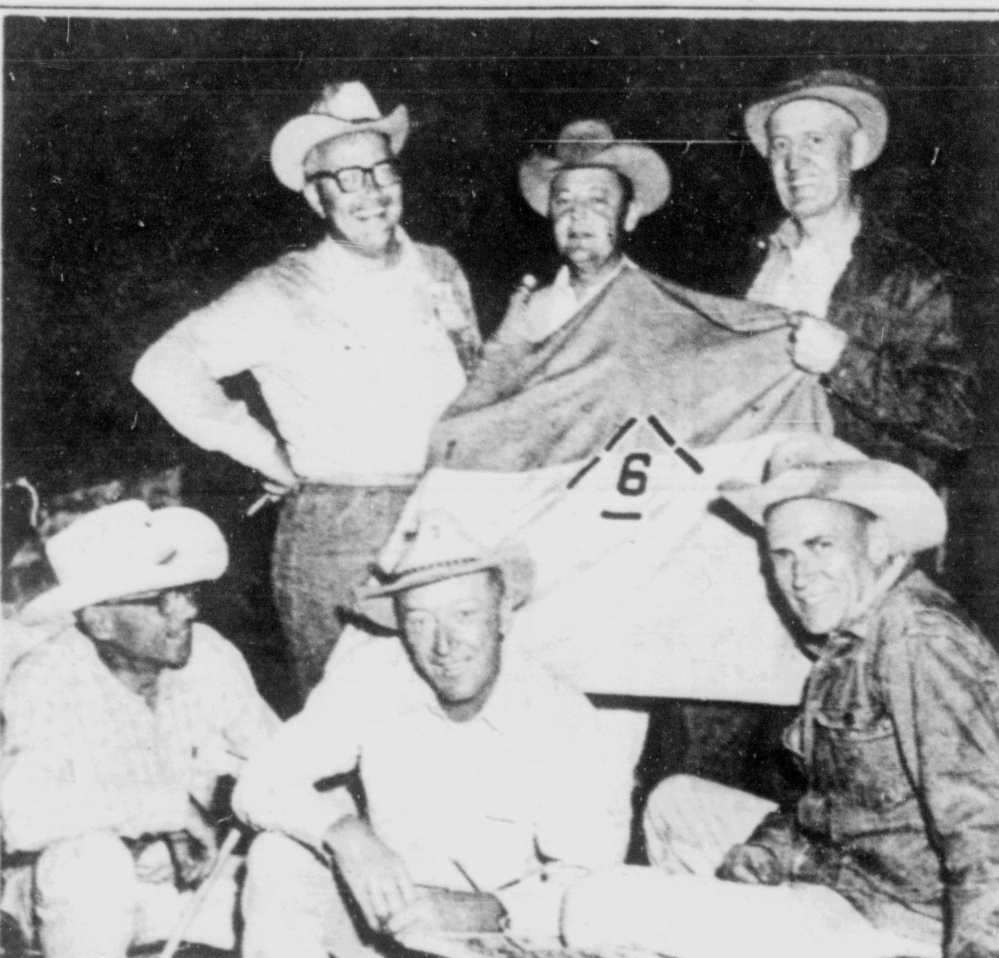

Councilman Gale Decker, a member of the local service club, asked the council to invite the Canon City businessman to the council meeting Monday to review in more detail the program conducted in Canon City.

Outside of Fredrickson's appearance Monday night, the council has slated only routine business on its agenda, according to City Manager Frank Carochi.

Barry 'Does Everything Hard Way,' Friend Says

By ROBERT WOOD
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A friend once said of Barry Goldwater: "He does everything the hard way. In baseball he even batted crosshanded."

Politics didn't change Goldwater.

After his election to the Senate in 1952 it didn't take him long to raise the nation's blood pressure.

Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, said publicly: "Goldwater is the nation's No. 1 political fanatic labor biter and peddler of class hatred."

A high ranking military commander once said privately: "Barry Goldwater may be the only man who can lead this nation out of the mess in which it is trapped."

Before he had completed his first Senate term, Goldwater had become the recognized leader of the conservative cause.

He is 6 feet, weighs an unchanging 185, has curly salt-and-pepper hair, a jutting jaw and an outdoorman's tan.

He has expensive tastes, as proven by his home atop a hill overlooking Phoenix, equipped with electronic gadgets.

Next to his desk is a VHF radio that provides weather reports. He can press a button and a movie screen rolls down from the ceiling of the study. His lawn-sprinkling system is electronically operated and the sound of a miniature waterfall in his garden is piped over his hi-fi system. One bathroom is papered with snapshots taken by the senator.

How was this man created? The past holds some answers.

His grandfather, Michael Goldwasser, one of 22 children, escaped the horrors of the ghettos and oppressive anti-Semitic laws of his native Konin, Poland, in 1848.

His travels carried him to Paris, to England, to New York and finally to the gold fields of California. He prospected the streams and the mountains until he opened a saloon, a venture that ultimately resulted in the Goldwater department store empire of Arizona.

Big Mike believed anyone could be a success in the United States if he had guts and a willingness to work.

Barry Goldwater's mother came to Arizona from Illinois in 1909 at the age of 25 with a doctor's word still fresh in her mind: She had tuberculosis and only six months to live. At the age of 89, Josephine Goldwater watched her son nominated as Republican presidential candidate Wednesday night.

She often told her son: "Don't

Everybody's Business
City License Fees, Union Dues Aid Some
By SAM CAMPBELL
Register Business Editor
When a man undertakes to pursue a trade for the first time or to open a business, he finds his path beset by obstacles, red tape, and financial charges imposed by other men.

Such harassment to livelihood may come in the form of a labor union's demand that the worker pay part of his wages as a ransom for the privilege of working. Or it may come in the form of the familiar outstretched hand from City Hall.

Regardless, the effect is the same: namely, to hinder or prevent some individual from doing what he prefers to do.

Since the system is harmful to the individual, it is interesting to examine why so many individuals put up with it.

In any one particular case, it is obvious the individual tolerates an injurious system because he has to. That is, the union is bigger than he is; similarly City Hall would close the businessman down if he dared to defy it.

Many persons object to the union's stranglehold and many oppose the exactions of City Hall but they are crushed one by one under the organization wheel.

What then should the victims do? Organize a mutual defense? Confront power with power? For a variety of reasons this suggestion is not practical. There is a better, quicker way.

This method of correction deals with the fact that purposeful behavior—such as that committed by the union or City Hall—is preceded by a thought. When the thought is incorrect, harmful behavior is certain to follow.

To see how this is true, let us examine the mistaken thought that leads to union oppression of the workingman and City Hall oppression of the businessman.

The union agent and the representative from City Hall alike believe they are vested with a special authority. Each believes the group he represents has more rights than his victim. Each is convinced that group rights total up to more than individual rights.

This assertion of power is sometimes referred to as "the double standard." It alleges that what is morally wrong for an individual can be morally proper for a group.

What such a thought fails to comprehend is the fact that cunning men form special interest groups on purpose to screen themselves from popular indignation while they carry out wrongful acts.

Union dues of the compulsory type and the city business license fee alike help some persons at the expense of others. When the prevailing opinions of the men hold group actions to the same accountability that individuals are held to, this type of abuse will stop. Then individuals will have greater liberty to pursue a living.

In short, the remedy for the "double standard" is to persuade men to accept the SINGLE STANDARD: one rule of conduct for all; no more rightful authority to men in a group than to men as individuals.

The office, under the direction of Munroe, will be a completely autonomous advertising agency operation capable of planning and creating advertising campaigns for any type client.

Adams said, "At the same time the Chicago Division will be backed by the extensive resources of our talent here in Detroit. The appointment of Munroe is the latest step in the program of growth and expansion of our Chicago Division."

Munroe left the presidency of the Alexander Film Company, Colorado Springs, to join Campbell-Ewald. He had been with them since 1957. Alexander Film Company produces commercial films for television and documentaries. During Munroe's presidency, the company produced over 4,000 film commercials which won more than 40 creative film awards. Munroe's previous experience also covers marketing, product development and sales planning.

The Chicago Division office of Campbell-Ewald now serves a list of diversified clients with products ranging from food and candy to pianos, organs, natural gas, lumber, and pharmaceuticals.

Campbell-Ewald is one of the top dozen agencies in the country with more than 65 clients, eight branch offices plus three divisions — New York, Chicago, and the West Coast.

WARNING ISSUED
DENVER (UPI)—Hugh Kingery, administrator for the Colorado Mountain Club, warned mountaineers Thursday to take extra precautions on Colorado peaks. Kingery said climbing parties should start early to avoid frequent afternoon storms and should include at least three persons. Last Sunday an Air Force lieutenant was killed in a fall while climbing near Aspen, Colo.

Nichols Paid $5 for Putter
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Bobby Nichols found his fabulous putter—which he used in firing a record 64 in the first round of the PGA Golf Tournament Thursday—in the back room of a pro shop.

"I never could hit a nickel's worth with that putter," laughed George B. Allen, who discarded the putter last week.

Allen, a member of the Owl Creek Country Club, recently bought a new putter and left his old one at the pro shop.

Nichols was visiting last week and saw the club, tried it out and found it had just the right feel. "How much?" he asked. The price was $5.

Tyrol Nationalists Convicted in Italy

MILAN, Italy (AP)—The trial of 91 persons charged with separatist terrorism in the Alto Adige area—South Tyrol—of northern Italy ended Thursday night with the conviction of 71 and the acquittal of 20.

The eight-month trial followed a summer of violence in 1961 blamed on German-speaking residents of the former Austrian area seeking greater autonomy. Italy won the area after World War I, but an Austrian nationalist movement has continued.

Those convicted were sentenced to prison terms ranging from 3 years to 23 years and 10 months.

The area of Micronesia contains more than 2,000 islands and atolls strewn over some three million square miles of the western Pacific.

"Come on, shoot another Nigger," shouted one of several weeping, hysterical Negro girls.

The crowd taunted police and hurled school books, bottles, cans and stones. Patrolman Edward Seabrook, 35, the only Negro policeman there, was hit on the head by a can and was taken to a hospital.

The police and the crowd surged back and forth in East 76th street for about an hour before the crowd was broken up.

When they left, most went into the school but others ran into a subway station, jumped over the turnstiles and turned their wrath on a news-stand operator, Sam Goldstein.

"The children came in droves," he said, "they began grabbing the candy and magazines off the counter and then they threw my papers on the platform."

The dead youth was 15-year-old James Powell, one of three Negroes Police Lt. Thomas Gilligan said he found chasing a building superintendent into an apartment building.

Police said the trouble began when the white building superintendent, cleaning the sidewalk with a hose, sprayed the three Negro youths, who then chased him into his building.

They said the three youths and the superintendent engaged in a heated argument and there reportedly were racial slurs.

Gilligan showed his badge, police said, and ordered the boys to stop hanging garbage can lids and move on.

Police Inspector Joseph Coyle said the lieutenant "fired in defense of himself" when Powell came at Gilligan with a pocket knife and failed to heed a warning to stop. Coyle said the knife was found in the gutter.

Of the 3,460,000 Africans in Northern Rhodesia, only 223,000 are employed; of the 74,000 Europeans, 32,000 are employed.

The first boxing bout to be telecast was the Lou Nova versus Max Baer fight on June 1, 1939.

Gilligan showed his badge, police said, and ordered the boys to stop hanging garbage can lids and move on.

Police Inspector Joseph Coyle said the lieutenant "fired in defense of himself" when Powell came at Gilligan with a pocket knife and failed to heed a warning to stop. Coyle said the knife was found in the gutter.

Of the 3,460,000 Africans in Northern Rhodesia, only 223,000 are employed; of the 74,000 Europeans, 32,000 are employed.

The first boxing bout to be telecast was the Lou Nova versus Max Baer fight on June 1, 1939.

Police said the trouble began when the white building superintendent, cleaning the sidewalk with a hose, sprayed the three Negro youths, who then chased him into his building.

They said the three youths and the superintendent engaged in a heated argument and there reportedly were racial slurs.

Killing of Negro Youth by Police Officer Probed

NEW YORK (AP)—Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy promises a "thorough and impartial investigation" of the fatal shooting of a Negro youth by an off-duty white police lieutenant who said the youth came at him with a knife.

The killing Thursday in a Manhattan street near a public school touched off violence among 300 teen-agers, mostly Negro, and 75 steel-helmeted police.

"Come on, shoot another Nigger," shouted one of several weeping, hysterical Negro girls.

The crowd taunted police and hurled school books, bottles, cans and stones. Patrolman Edward Seabrook, 35, the only Negro policeman there, was hit on the head by a can and was taken to a hospital.

The police and the crowd surged back and forth in East 76th street for about an hour before the crowd was broken up.

When they left, most went into the school but others ran into a subway station, jumped over the turnstiles and turned their wrath on a news-stand operator, Sam Goldstein.

"The children came in droves," he said, "they began grabbing the candy and magazines off the counter and then they threw my papers on the platform."

The dead youth was 15-year-old James Powell, one of three Negroes Police Lt. Thomas Gilligan said he found chasing a building superintendent into an apartment building.

Police said the trouble began when the white building superintendent, cleaning the sidewalk with a hose, sprayed the three Negro youths, who then chased him into his building.

Southern Rhodesia Ousts Two Preachers

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Two American Methodist clergymen have been ordered to leave Southern Rhodesia by July 22.

The government gave no explanation for its deportation order against Bishop Ralph Dodge, Terril, Iowa, and the Rev. Robert Hughes, Birmingham, Ala.

The Rev. Mr. Hughes said he assumed it was "because of the firm stand which the Methodist Conference Church has taken against the practices of the government."

Cologne's city officials took a step today to make the Rhine city more beautiful. They closed a bordello section and announced they would make it a park.

Hoffa's Fraud Trial Nearing Its End

CHICAGO (AP)—The long fraud and conspiracy trial of Teamsters President James R.
Hoffa and six codefendants
nearly its end today.
Reading of final documents by the defense was to be followed by closing arguments and instructions of Judge Richard B.
Austin to the jury in U.S. District Court. The trial is in its 12th week.
Hoffa, the final witness, denied Thursday every allegation in the government's 52-page indictment. It charged Hoffa and his codefendants with fraudulently arranging 14 real estate loans totaling more than $20 million from the Teamsters Union pension fund since 1958 and with diverting more than a million dollars to their own uses.
Hoffa is accused of using his influence as Teamsters president to obtain approval of the loans by the other trustees of the $280-million pension fund.

He allegedly used kickbacks
from the recipients of the loans to rescue from bankruptcy a

Barry Places His Men in Top Command Posts

By WALTER R. MEARS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen.
Barry Goldwater, charting a presidential campaign course for the Republican party he now commands, puts his men at the helm today after a triumphant call to the conservative colors.
Goldwater's acceptance address at the GOP national convention Thursday night was an outline of the tenets he proclaims, punctuated with slaps at President Johnson and the Democrats.

It won a five-minute ovation from shouting, stomping delegates. Then Goldwater and his running mate, Rep. William E.
Miller of New York, stood together to take the cheers.

Today, Goldwater goes to work to shape the Republican organization that will guide his campaign for the White House.
He will go before the new Republican national committee—an organization he has designed to run the campaign ahead.

And the committee will ratify his choice of 36-year-old Dean Burch, a Tucson, Ariz., attorney, as its new chairman. Miller has held the post.

"The whole purpose is to make this a tool for the election of Barry Goldwater," said
Burch.

The party's new operating chief has been second in command of Goldwater's campaign.
Denison Kitchel, the head man, said he will serve as general director of the Senator's campaign.

Vowing to battle to victory in November, Goldwater told the convention.

"The good Lord raised up this mighty republic to be a home for the brave and to flourish
as the land of the free—not to stagnate in the swamp of collectivism—not to cringe before the bullying of communism."

"The tide has been running against freedom," Goldwater said, and he promised to reverse it.

America's streets, even its churches, are not safe, Goldwater said. And he added:

"History demonstrates that nothing prepares the way for tyranny more than the failure of public officials to keep the streets safe from bullies and marauders."

Goldwater said, "It is the cause of Republicanism to remind ourselves and the world that only the strong can remain free—that only the strong can keep the peace."

"I do not intend to let peace or freedom be torn from our grasp because of lack of strength or lack of will."

Mrs. Goldwater watched proudly and their two daughters wept as he claimed the nomination and declared:

"You and I are going to fight for the goodness of our land."
Outside the arena, some 500
civil rights demonstrators chanted "Barry must go." Goldwater didn't see them. He left by another exit and a police motorcade whisked him back to the Mark Hopkins Hotel.

"I was kind of nervous," he told an aide back at his headquarters. "That's a great picture out there to see."

ORDER CONTINUED

DENVER (UPI)—A temporary restraining order prohibiting a strike by 300 locomotive firemen against the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad was continued Thursday until Aug. 6. The extension was granted by U.S. Dist. Judge Hatfield Chilson who approved the order last Sunday when members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen staged a brief walk-out. The union said the dispute centered around the railroad's use of inside hostlers for yard jobs and contract coverage of demoted engineers.

30 SOUTH PROSPECT

WANTS TO BE TRUCK DRIVER — Lucille A. Morelli, 23, of New York, checks her appearance in a cab mirror after applying for a job as a truck driver in New York in response to an ad placed in a newspaper. Miss Morelli, a graduate of Brooklyn College with an education degree, called the job "fascinating and dangerous." She said she learned to drive a truck from her father, a truck driver. (AP Wirephoto)

Miss Englehorn Has Low Score In Yankee Open

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP)—Young Shirley Englehorn of Los Angeles established herself as a top contender in the first annual Ladies Professional Golf Association Yankee Open at Atlas Valley Country Club Thursday by taking low pro honors in the pro-amateur preliminary with a one-over par 73.

Miss Englehorn made the turn in one-under par 35 and shot two-over par 38 on the back nine. She dropped birdie putts of six and three feet on the second and third holes.

Trailing Miss Englehorn were Clifford Ann Creed of Alexandria, La.; veteran Patty Berg of Fort Myers, Fla.; and Beth Stone of Muskogee, Okla., with 74s.

Gloria Fecht's team captured the best ball trophy with 59 while the South Pines, N.C., pro had an individual 70.

Favored Mickey Wright, who has won seven of 12 tournaments this year including last week's U.S.G.A. Women's Open at San Diego, Calif., played Atlas for the first time and shot 77.

The $12,650, 54-hole tournament gets under way Friday with 31 pros and 10 amateurs making up the field.

Lowell North Leads Racing Sloops Race

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Twenty-two 29-foot Dragon class racing sloops sailed off in two directions as skippers sought wind toward the first weather mark.

But the 23rd skipper took a middle course, and no one covered him. Moments later the wind shifted, the 22 skippers whistled futilely for breeze, and past the mark skinned the lone sailor: Lowell North of San Diego, Calif.

He increased his lead around the 10.8-mile course, finishing 2 minutes, 40 seconds ahead Thursday in his third straight win.

The finals were to include 7 races, but after North won three out of four, officials of the Olympic Committee said he could be named winner if he takes Saturday's race. If that happens, Sunday and Monday races would be dropped. There is no race today.

North finished Thursday ahead of Bob Mosbacher of Houston and Charles Ross of Seattle. North now has a 2,017-point lead over Morris Landon of San Diego, second in point standings with 3,430.

Winner of the finals will be the United States' entry at the Olympic games at Japan this fall.

Rams' Svare Makes Changes In Lineup

ORANGE, Calif. (AP)—Here's Coach Harland Svare's latest prescription for what ails the Los Angeles Rams:

Move Ed Meador from defensive left halfback to free or weak-side safetyman. Give Ben Scott Meador's old left corner slot.

Move Jon Arnett from offensive half to flanker end. But leave it a trifle in doubt. Make him contend with Carroll Dale for the starting assignment.

Svare announced changes and confirmed swap - arounds tried earlier when he presided over a special squad meeting Thursday. Other announcements included these assignments:

Pervis Atkins at halfback instead of tight end. John Adams goes at fullback. And Duane Allen shuttled between flanker and tight end, will stay at tight end.

Seed-Corn Proves Good 61 Years Later

PRYOR, Okla. (AP)—When Pes Quas was 22 years old, his father sent him to a neighbor's farm to buy a couple of bushels of seed corn.

Sixty-one years later, Quas, now 83, is still reaping the benefits of that trip.

Quas still plants that same strain of corn he carried home. It grows up to 18 feet, producing excellent ears and good grain for meal in addition to being field corn for livestock.

Quas has kept the strain pure by selecting ideal ears from each year's crop for the next year's seed.

He keeps fresh corn in his freezer and "grits" his own meal.

"Makes the best cornbread you ever ate," Quas says. "In fact, it's the only way to make cornbread."

Dr. Sheppard to Be Back in Prison

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard was expected to be back in prison today after spending his first night of freedom in years in a plush motel here.

The 40-year-old former osteopath had meals served in his room, went swimming and visited with relatives. And he was reunited with a fiancée he did not know before entering Ohio Penitentiary nine years ago for the 1954 bludgeoning slaying of his wife, Marilyn.

The controversial murder case that attracted worldwide interest became even more bizarre in the last two days.

A federal district judge in Dayton ruled Wednesday that Sheppard had been denied constitutional rights in his trial and ordered him released from prison, setting the stage for a retrial.

Thursday, the balding one-time Cleveland suburbanite walked out of the penitentiary. About the same time, a U.S. appeals court judge in Cincinnati stayed the district court order. That meant Sheppard had to return to prison at least until a hearing could be conducted on the stay order.

The papers necessary to return Sheppard to the prison arrived here about 7 p.m. but state officials could not locate a U.S. marshal to serve them and take Sheppard into custody.

After signing his $10,000 bond papers in the federal building here Thursday, Sheppard went to the motel and told newsmen he would remain there until a marshal arrived.

At that time he said his fiancée, Ariane Tebbenjohanns, was en route to Columbus from Cleveland and they had planned to fly to another state and be married immediately. However, he said, these plans had been called off.

Mrs. Tebbenjohanns, a 34-year-old German divorcee, arrived at the motel and left the engine in her car running as she dashed to Sheppard's room. The couple posed for photographs and went for a 20-minute swim in the motel pool.

Sheppard's attorney, F. Lee Bailey, said he is confident Sheppard will be released again by Monday or Tuesday. No site has been set for the hearing on the stay, which will be before a three-judge panel.

Sheppard steadfastly has contended that a bushy-haired intruder beat his pregnant wife to death on July 4, 1954. Although only months away from a possible parole, Sheppard now faces the risk of a retrial that could result in a first-degree murder conviction and a possible death sentence. Originally he was found guilty of second-degree murder in a two-month trial that ended Dec. 21, 1954.

At least two ships of the Spanish Armada sunk near the Blasket Islands, off the southwest Irish coast. One carried 50,000 gold and silver coins and 25 guns, of which only one gun has been recovered.

ALL BALLED UP — G. B. Crowley, of Tulsa, Okla., is partly hidden behind a giant ball of string he says it took him twenty years and several thousand knots to put together. The ball weighs 142 pounds, is 27 inches thick, and measures seven feet three inches around. Crowley's barbershop partner, Jack Lane, computed the weight of a piece of string, then figured the ball would stretch 61 miles 176 yards if unrolled.

Harding's Daughter Tells About Background

By DAVE SMITH
GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—A Glendale housewife and mother of three has yielded up a secret kept for more than 20 years: She is the illegitimate daughter of Warren Gamaliel Harding, 29th president of the United States.

Mrs. Henry E. Blaessing, speaking in a tired voice, said she is the late president's daughter by a mistress, Nan Britton.

"I've talked to so many reporters today," she said. "I haven't even had a chance to talk to my sons to find out what they think of all this."

News stories about recently discovered love letters from Harding to another mistress, Mrs. James Phillips of Marion, Ohio, referred to Nan Britton and to the "love child" Miss Britton said she bore out of wedlock.

The Los Angeles Herald Examiner found Mrs. Blaessing living in this suburban community. Miss Britton, now 67, lives in Evanston, Ill.

"We are very close," said Mrs. Blaessing. "She's a wonderful person."

Mrs. Blaessing, listed as Elizabeth Ann Christian on her birth certificate, was born Oct. 22, 1919, in Asbury Park, N.J. Harding, then a U.S. senator, was 53, married, childless and just one year away from the presidency.

In 1921 Elizabeth Ann was adopted in Chicago by her mother's sister, Elizabeth, and her husband, Scott Willits. They also live in Glendale now.

"I was the most logical one to adopt her," says Mrs. Willits. "I had no children, and that way we could keep her in the family. She thought we were her parents until her mother took her back when she was seven."

"My mother told me when I was very young that President Harding was my father. He died in 1924. I don't remember ever seeing him. I believe, though, that my mother sent him photographs of me and my mother told me that he sometimes inquired about me."

"I can't remember too exactly about those earliest years, but I was quite young when she told me he was my father. I think it is better not to tell children of such things."

"I guess that when my mother told me about it she said I was a 'love child.' I don't remember if I was shaken by the news or not."

Mrs. Blaessing says knowledge of who her father was created no problems for her.

"I had a normal childhood," she says, "but then, I didn't go around telling people about it."

She continues: "I do recall that when she (her mother) spoke of President Harding she always talked of him in glowing terms. Mother wasn't bitter. All through the years she never spoke badly of him. It was all love, adoration and affection. She told me she loved him very much. She still does."

"I never had any bitterness toward President Harding."

Mrs. Blaessing was married on Sept. 18, 1938, in Chicago. The Blaessings moved to California at the end of World War II and settled in Glendale three and a half years ago. Blaessing is manager of an office building. They have three sons, 17, 13 and 10.

Until Thursday, Mrs. Blaessing says, only her closest friends and a few members of the family have known of her parentage. Even her sons hadn't known.

A book, "The President's Daughter," published in 1927 by Miss Britton, said she and President Harding had a love affair from 1906 until 1922.

COLOR CAREFUL

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Don't put green tomatoes on a sunny windowsill to ripen. The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports too much sunlight prevents development of a normal, even color.

The department's food specialists suggest putting the tomatoes in the cellar or garage—some place where the temperature is from 60 to 70 degrees F. Light is not needed to produce good red coloring in under-ripe tomatoes.

Mrs. Goldwater Will Not Talk About Politics

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mrs. Barry Goldwater says she'll travel the campaign trail with her husband but she won't talk politics in public.

"It's not that I don't like public life," Peggy Goldwater said Thursday at her first news conference since Goldwater was nominated by the Republicans for president.

"I'm not quite used to appearing before the news media. Maybe I'll get used to it sometime."

Mrs. Goldwater, 55, stood on a yellow box to look out over the rostrum at a crowd of about 50 in the ballroom of Goldwater's headquarters hotel. A huge color campaign photo of her husband was behind her. In the 12 minutes before Goldwater's press secretary, Ed Nellor, called a halt, the candidate's wife did not ignore any question.

But when asked if she would rather be in politics or stay quietly at home, she said "no comment" so softly it could scarcely be heard.

Otherwise, newsmen learned: Mrs. Goldwater, who stands 5 feet-3 has blue eyes and brown hair swept back from a widow's peak and streaked with blonde, won't make any speeches, but she'll travel with campaigning Goldwater "wherever he goes."

From San Francisco, though, she's going right home to rest at the Goldwaters' desert home in Phoenix.

As for the idea of living in the White House, "it would be delightful" and she wouldn't change a thing there.

She thinks the most important job of a nominee's wife is "to be able to meet people and just be sort of natural. I guess."

The hardest part is "THIS."

Swapping Major Activity At Boy Scout Encampment

By LEE LINDER
VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—The Boy Scout is a swapper. He'll give almost anything to get almost anything. And some stuff he sells for a profit.

Like the deer hides 15-year-old Skipper Netherly of Junction, Tex., brought along, plus a number of Mexican knives.

"I want $10 for the hides," he said, "and I'll take $5 for the knives." He hoped to have taken near the end of the week-long sixth national jamboree that started officially today on the green hills and valleys of historic Valley Forge.

It began when an aerial bomb exploded high in the sky to signal the raising of 1,800 flags as the 52,000 participating scouts and leaders stood at attention.

Joseph A. Brunton Jr., chief of the nation's 5½ million scouts, looked over the city of 30,000 tents and said, "This represents what's good about America."

Scouting covers many generations, and Dr. Herbert L. Harvey, a 74-year-old retired physician from Casper, Wyo., is happy to be the head of one such family. He joined the Boy Scouts in 1912.

His son, Glenn, a colonel in the Army, is a former scout and Harvey's three grandsons—Glenn Jr., 17; Steven, 15; and John, 13, of Falls Church Va.—are attending the jamboree.

Dr. Harvey, a member of the medical services staff, says "I'm really proud to be alive, and here."

Swapping knows no ages. The Rev. Richard Burns, a Methodist chaplain from St. Mary's, Pa., sat at a table in one of the four trading tents with a pile of Jim-Jacks in front of him, items he had carved out of wood.

"The boys need to learn the real joy in swapping," said the minister-scout. "When I swap things I explain the history of the item the boy is getting."

The trading tents were jammed with hundreds of boys from every state in the nation, and from many of the 44 foreign countries. They sat cross-legged on the grass floor or crowded around wooden tables.

They had cigar boxes, shoe boxes, paper bags, stuffed with neckerchiefs, shoulder patches, lapel patches, stuffed turtles, rattlesnake rattlers, oyster shells, rocks and metal rings.

The scouts have been rolling in here since Tuesday. With them came 60 carloads of baggage.

Everything reached its destination, a spokesman said, except one pair of tweezers.

The International Union of Journeymen Horseshoers of the United States and Canada (AFL-CIO) has about 300 members in 22 locals, working mostly on the Eastern seaboard and in Canada.
